

In memory of the pioneer Editor-in-Chief of FJHSS, Professor Lucy Uzoma Ekwueme

Professor Lucy Uzoma Ekwueme, the pioneer Editor-in-Chief of FUNAI Journal of Humanities and Social Sciences passed away on November 16, 2015 at the age of 70 years. She obtained her ED.M and ED.D in Music Education from Columbia University in the United States of America. She was an Associate Professor of Music Education at the University of Lagos before she joined Federal University Ndufu-Alike, Ikwo (FUNAI) as a full Professor in the Department of Languages/Linguistics and Literary Studies.

Professor Ekwueme worked tirelessly with other members of the editorial board to establish FJHSS. Lucy has been a scholar in the best tradition. There is absolutely no doubt that she has made a major series of contributions to her chosen subject-area, and has also helped countless others to do likewise. She was not only a leader in her field, but a quiet, amiable and good person. She will be missed by many readers of FJHSS. However, her books and articles, lectures and presentations, coaching and friendship leave a fine legacy that will stay with us for a long time to come. Professor Lucy Ekwueme is survived by her husband and two children.

May her kind soul rest in perfect peace.
